Education Institutional Services

Provide a single platform for all Campus activities.

There is huge gap between the industrial practices and institutional methodologies, the gap is widening due to the fast growing cutting edge technologies in less span of time. The pace at which the industry is growing, the educational Institutional system is not growing. This made it imperative on the part of the institute to take initiative to bridge that gap.

Today the students are not directly employable unless they are given further training. It is generally felt by the industries / organizations. Institutions are sound to be working in isolation and are unaware of the industrial skills that fetch jobs to the students. Future Point understands this gap and try to accomplish this Herculean task of bridging the gap between industries and institutions.

The primary aim of the Future Point is to create a platform for students to get into the Industry
